Simple Web Counter without registration

You can use the statscounter on your website immediately without signing up or something like that. We don't need your first or lastname, your address or even your email address. Your personal data is completely safe. We will explain in the next step, how to get a counter for your website.

This is how the Stats Counter works

The free visitorcounter is an enrichment for your website and one of the most used and fancied widgets among webmasters. It offers you and your visitors the possibility to check your visitors from today, yesterday and all time since embedding the counter. The higher the number, the more reputable and credible your homepage will look for your visitors. You can decide between different designs and styles, click on the button and get your personal counter code. Just put it on every single page on your website and every visitor is counted.

ATTENTION: The counter only counts the visits on pages, where it is actually embedded. If you embed your counter only on your contact page, only those visitors are counted. If you like to count all visitors on your website, you have to implement the counter on all pages as well.

If you need a step-by-step guide, how to implement your counter correctly, go here.

It's this easy to implement the Hitcounter

Start now, our statcounters are extremely easy to embed on your website. Choose your counter image, copy the code and paste it unchanged on your website where you can see it. Now you can see your visitor count. If you click on the counter, you see more statistics. Here is a step-by-step guide >>

Counter for Ebay and Facebook

People often ask, if they can use our counter for Ebay and Facebook as well. Unfortunately this does not work. Neither of them allow to embed JavaScript. Perhaps we find a solution for that in the future.

Webcounter Suitable for every homepage, website, blog or shop!

If you have your own website with your own server or webspace (e.g. at 1and1, Hetzner, Strato, GoDaddy, ...) you can use our counter-code without any issues everytime. It also works with free webspace hosts like jimdo, wix.com, lima-city etc. The counter only needs JavaScript and that works on almost every webpage that you host yourself.

Use the visitorcounter for

- homepage
- website
- blogs
- CMS (Content Management System)
- shops
- forums (like phpBB, WBB, vBulletin, ...)

Counter also for Wordpress, Blogspot, Joomla, tumblr etc.!

The script for the hit counter is very simple, so you can use it in fre blogs as well. No matter if you use Wordpress, Tumblr, Drupal, Jimdo, Joomla, Typo3, xtcommerce or other free Content Management Systems / Blog-systems like Blogspot or Blogger, you can use our hitcounter. Even if you use Frontpage, it will work.

The hitcounter works with

- Wordpress
- Myspace
- Blogspot
- Xanga
- Jimdo
- Typo3
- Joomla
- Tumblr
- phpBB
- WBB
- vBulletin
- and almost all other systems!

Is this Visitor Statistics service really 100% free?

YES! Our service is and will stay for you as the user of the counter service 100% free. We don't require any registration on purpose. We embed a link with the counter and may serve ads, so we can continue our free service. Please don't change the link or the counter code. Otherwise the counter won't work properly anymore!

Are there detail statistics about my website visitors available?

YES! Just click on the counter to see all further statistics. We will expand the statistics in the future. Even if you use the minimal counter-style, you can see the full statistics like with every other counter-style.

Can I make the visitorcounter invisible?

We are planning to release this feature soon. Meanwhile you can embed the smallest variation of the counter, where only a small button but no statistics are directly visible.
